M'CUE CASE IN SUPREME COURT

Petition to Highest Tribunal Not Yet Presented, So Far as Known

TRANSFERS TO SEVEN PINES

This Cause From Corporation Commission Will Soon be Heard.

The Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia will convene in this city next week, and a busy and imperiant term is in prospect. One of the most interesting matters that will come up at this session is the appeal in the case of J. Samuel McCue, sentenced to death for wife murder at Charlottesville. The date set for McCue's execution is January 20th, unless the action of the appellate court results in a stay. The record in the case has for more than a month been in the hands of counsel for McCue, but if they have ever presented their petition in the case, nothing is known of it in this city. It may now be in the hands of one of the five judges, it being unnecessary to send five judges, it being unnecessary to sen appeal papers here until action has had thereon. It is possible that the position will be presented to the encourt during its sitting here. No case any years is of such interest as this people of Virginia.

The Peddler Cases.

Besides the McCue case seven Common-wealth's cages are set for argument at this term. Three or four of these are in what is known as peddler cases, invo-ing construction of the statute against ing construction of the status against meddling goods in this State. In almost every case, if not in all, the defense relied upon is that the appellants are solling goods by sample under authority nonveyed in the interstate commerce man of seventy years, appeals from con-viction and sentence for criminal assault, the victim being a widow of Charlotte

The Corporation Commission held that the company were bound by contract to furnish such transfers and labor tickets. The Attorney-General will represent the State.

SPECIAL TERM.

Suit of Lorrilard Against Patterson Co. in Circuit Court.

Judge Goff, of the United States Circuit Court, will hold a special term of that tribunal in this city on January 10th, for the trial of the ten-year-old suit of the P. Lorrilard Company vs. the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company, of this city. This is a suit in equity in which the Lorrilards allege that the Patterson Company has violated its trademark rights in having issued a tobacco tag in initiation of its red tin tag used on its Climax brand. The purpose of the suit is to enjoin and restrain the defendants from using such tags, which it is alleged have the effect of confusing the public and injuring the sale of the Lorrilard goods. The suit was instituted in September, 1834, and has been in the court in one form or another almost eyer sine. The case is of the same class as the recent suit of the Confinental Tobacco Company vs. the Larus and Brother Company. son Co. in Circuit Court.

Enjoyable Entertainment.

Enjoyable Entertainment.

The annual Christmas entertainment for the children of the Sunday school of the First Presbyterian Church was held on Wednesday night. The affair was different from the usual Christmas tree celevation. Moving pictures were shown in the lecture-room of the church, and these were followed by refreshments, which were served in the church parlors. The lecture hall was quite well filled, and the evening was a most enjoyable one.

ENTERTAINMENT AT THE CITY ALMSHOUSE

The Crowd So Great That One Away.

The entertainment at the City Almshouse last night was a success in every way. A crowd of four hundred packed the dining hall, in which the entertainment was held, and more than one hundred persons were turned away.

It was a representative audience that enjoyed the evening's performance, comprising citizens from all parts of the city.

The presence of Professor Moses Stein's Academy orchestra greatly added to the enjoyment of the occasion. The orches-Academy orchestra greatly added to the enjoyment of the occasion.
